

Curves, lines and fringes combine in the perfect setting for a traditional tea ceremony.

WALL Painted in Obsidian Green intelligent matt emulsion, as before. FURNITURE Diedro cabinet, £8,556, Pietro Russell for Gallotti&Radice. Siam cocktail table, £1,795, Jonathan Adler. Gorska chairs, £2,665 each, Julian Chichester; upholstered in, from left, Tiger Silk viscose-mix in Electric Orange, as before; trimmed in Aquitaine fine bullion fringe in Leaf, as before; and upholstered in Sansui Cobalt cotton-mix, £130m, Designers Guild; trimmed in Aquitaine fine bullion fringe in Amethyst, £104m, Samuel & Sons. Bell coffee table with Amethyst Violet glass base and black glass top, £2,246, Sebastian Herkner for ClassiCon at Aram. DETAILS WWW Tubes wall art, £350, Dunja Jankovic at Black Magic Prints. Faux yellow and red oncidium stems, £21.90 each; faux purple phalaenopsis orchid stems, £17 each; faux white phalaenopsis orchid stems, from £11 each; and faux green cymbidium orchid stems, £22 each, all Amaranthine Blooms. Brick 2 candleholder, £409, Jenny Nordberg at Swedish Ninja. Quadrate lamp in Mustard, £1,194, and turquoise satin shade, £259, both Porta Romana. Chinese New Year stationery, from a selection; and Silk Road fortune cookies, £4.25 for 12, all Amazon. Cast iron teapot in Shihezi Red, £35; and cup, from Chinese Palace Scene tea set, £26.85, both The Tea House.